

GENERAL STRIKES IN IRELAND AND GREAT BRITAIN ARE BEING FOSTERED BY ENGLISH BOLSHEVIKS

London, Jan. 30.—The general strikes throughout Great Britain and Ireland are bolshevistic, British labor leaders declared today. They said the strikers are under the direction of local boards organized like soviets which are openly opposed to the authorized heads of the national federations of trade unions. It was further charged that the strikes are being partially financed by the Russian bolsheviks.

"The strikes are the result of agitation by 'shop stewards' who are English bolsheviks," Frank Smith, national secretary of the federation of engineers and shipbuilders told the United Press today.

"They are under the direction of local boards which are organized like soviets and are in open opposition to the heads of the national federation of trade unions. It is reported that these 'shop stewards' are receiving money from Lenin."

"The executive council of the federation voted yesterday to disclaim any connection with the strikes except the one called in the Tyne district for a 47 hour week, which is likely to be settled in a few days.

"I have learned that the 'shop stewards' have invited the local boards of England, Scotland and probably Ireland to a congress next week in Barrow-In-Furness (18 miles northwest of Lancaster) which is the capital of British bolshevism. The purpose of this congress, I understand, is to endorse the 'shop steward' or soviet movement, and draw up a definite program. The 'shop stewards' recently sent seven agitators through the districts which are now erupting. It is believed certain they caused the present upheavals."

"The men now striking voted in November to accept a 47 hour week. Apparently flushed with the success of their efforts they are now independently trying to force a forty hour week. The government is faced with a dilemma. If it deals with the strikers it means recognition of the independent organization and consequent retraction of the government's decision to treat with the authorized heads of organized labor."

STATE MAY MAKE INVESTIGATION OF CLEVELAND CRIMES

COLUMBUS, Jan. 30.—Governor Cox expected to have introduced in the legislature today an emergency bill to pave the way for a crime investigation in Cleveland.

This bill Cox said, will permit any one designated by the attorney general to enter a grand jury room as a representative of the state. At present only the attorney general or his first assistant may enter a grand jury room.

The legislature had planned to adjourn tonight until next Monday. Cox, however, will ask that the bill be rushed through before adjournment in order that Attorney General Price may appoint a special prosecutor for the Cleveland probe.

Republicans are not expected to oppose the emergency bill.

STRIKERS ATTACK NON-UNION WORKERS

GLASGOW, Jan. 30.—Striking shipbuilders raided the yards today and dragged out several non-unionists. A serious clash was narrowly averted.

The strikers sent an ultimatum to the provost marshal, declaring that unless the employers consent to begin negotiations by tomorrow, they will cut off the supply of electricity.

Many municipal electrical employees already are on strike and it is said there is only enough current for street lights and hospitals.

SUES CEDARVILLE VILLAGE FOR $10,000

GREENE CO. BOYS WITH 330TH REGIMENT AT NEWPORT NEWS

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., Jan. 30.—Ohio troops were among the best of the two million which left America ready to make the supreme sacrifice on the battlefields of France, according to Major-General Glenn, who arrived this morning, on the transport Martha Washington.

The transport brought home more than 2,000 troops, many of them from the 330th infantry, 83rd division on the Martha Washington. Fifty-two men and two officers in each company claimed Ohio as their home.

General Glenn says the 83rd was used mainly as a replacement division. It was stationed in an S. O. S. area, and in addition to drilling raw men fifteen hours a day, several days in the week, sent several full companies to the front, as replacements.

Th 332nd was sent to Italy and members of the 329th, 330th and 331st took their places at the front with various other field units, which had been shot to pieces by the Boche.

The Martha Washington, which came in last night, anchored in the stream and docked at an early hour this morning. The soldiers made merry on the ship far into the night. Sounds of music could be heard on shore until a late hour. The transport had a rough, but otherwise uneventful voyage from Brest.

PUT YOUR TRUST IN WILSON SAYS RUSSIAN EDITOR

Paris, Jan. 30.—"Put your faith in President Wilson" is the gist of the message which M. Longuet, unofficial representative of the Russian soviet government, will send to the bolsheviks, it was learned here today.

Longuet, who is editor of the socialist newspaper Populaire, was asked by Russian Foreign Minister Tchitcherin to investigate the proposal of the associated powers for a joint conference on Prinkipos island. It is learned that Longuet has proposed to tell the soviets that Wilson is making a genuine fight for the peoples of the world and that he will succeed in just the degree that the peoples support his efforts. He will advise the bolsheviks to agree to a conference.

HUNGARIANS CHEER THE UNITED STATES

Budapest, Jan. 29.—Hungarians conducted enthusiastic demonstrations throughout the country today, cheering the United States and the allies, as a result of the peace conference note warning that claims to territory occupied by force will receive no recognition at the peace table.

The Hungarians regarded this warning as directed particularly at the Rumanians and Jugo-Slavs, who have been encroaching on Hungarian soil.

A new crisis has been forced in Count Karokyl's cabinet, due to bourgeois attacks.

GOV. COX WANTS IMPROVEMENTS STARTED IN ALL CITIES OF OHIO

Columbus, Jan. 30.—Gov. Cox today moved to put in operation in every city and county in Ohio, plans for starting at once millions of dollars worth of public improvements in order to provide work for the thousands of idle men in the state. In brief these plans which were endorsed at a conference of over 100 local public officials with the governor here this week, are designed to cut all red tape and eliminate any hesitancy that might mean delay in getting the work under way.

Letters were sent by the governor today to 160 mayors and boards of county commissioners urging upon them the necessity of getting action at the earliest moment. Outlines of the methods of procedure which seek to safeguard the work to be so provided for the soldier, the man with dependents and the local man generally from the non-resident and the "floater" were enclosed.

As an indication that the chief executive intends to check up each community to see that none lags in doing its share, he asked each official addressed to report back exactly what has been done to get work started and what is being done.

Community conferences were suggested as a means of stimulating private improvements as well as of assisting in getting public work started by awakening public sentiment to the situation. Bankers, building men, material men and laboring men, the governor suggested should be represented at these meetings.

A warning to material and supply men that there must be no attempt to take advantage of the exigencies of the situation by extorting high prices, was sounded by the governor. They are entitled to a fair price, but no more, he indicated.

Reports from the United States employment service in Ohio laid before the governor, showed that twice as many persons were idle this winter as in normal winter seasons, due to the readjustment of business from a war to a peace basis.

U. S. THREATENES TO WITHDRAW FROM RUSSIA

Washington, Jan. 30.—The United States threatens to withdraw its support from the Russian republic factions unless they at once endorse President Wilson's plans for ending Russian strife.

Recall of American troops in the Archangel regions and in Siberia, embargo against exports to Archangel and Vladivostok, and withdrawal of United States recognition now granted the diplomats of the Russian constitutionalists at Washington would be the most significant features of the step. Similar action could be expected from Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan.

BOLSHEVIKS CLAIM SUCCESSSES ON ALL BATTLE FRONTS

"In the Archangel we captured several villages," the communique said. "Forty Vershs (26.4 miles) northeast of Plazetka, we pressed the enemy back to the mouth of the Narovar river, (on the gulf of Finland.)"

"On the west front, we occupied Groine."

"On the south, Markovk and Mitrafonovk were occupied."

WILSON WANTS GERMAN COLONIES CONTROLLED BY LEAGUE OF NATIONS

Paris, Jan. 30.—America's participation in the peace settlement may depend upon the decision reached regarding disposition of the German colonies, it was intimated today.

President Wilson believes the league of nations—the principle of which was unanimously adopted only last Saturday—will be given its death blow if the allies now insist on dividing Germany's former colonial possessions like so much loot. The president is the most serious that has yet confronted the peace delegates.

Wilson's firm attitude apparently has confused his opponents, forcing them to play for time in which to determine their course of action.

PORTS COMMITTEE AT PEACE CONFERENCE WILL AID COMMERCE OF INLAND NATIONS

The committee appointed at the peace conference to report on proposed regulation of ports, waterways and railroads, has a serious responsibility. Switzerland and other inland countries are asking freedom of the Rhine, Rhone and other waterways, and access to great ports. These rights, they realize, are necessary to their commercial life. The railroad problem of these nations is also a vital one. The peace conference hopes to render justice on these problems for the smaller nations. The committee consists of eight members. Besides the men shown above, the members are Andre Voiss and Albert Cloveville, France; Signor Greppi and Signor De Martino, Italy, and M. Yamakawa, Japan.

Try as you will, after an application of Danderine, you can not find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

TWO MEN HOLD UP RUSSELL THOMPSON

Held up by two men on Home avenue near the "second bridge" between eight and nine o'clock Wednesday evening, Russell Thompson, of the corner of the Wilmington pike and the Hook road was relieved of eighty cents.

The young man was walking home when the two men, whom he described as being a tall man with a black beard and a shorter man wearing a handkerchief tied around his neck, accosted him and asked him for a match. He furnished them the match and started on when they again halted him and asked him for money with which to get something to eat. When he told them he had no money one of the men levelled a revolver on him and searched him. Although he had $1.80 in his pocket, the men overlooked the bill and only took the change.

Thompson called Police Headquarters from the home of E. C. Sprigg on the Wilmington pike, and for hours police scoured Home Avenue, Orient Hill and the south end of the city without avail. It is believed that the strangers detoured around the city.

IT'S NOT YOUR HEART; IT'S YOUR KIDNEYS

Kidney disease is no respecter of persons. A majority of the ills afflicting people today can be traced back to the kidney trouble.

The kidneys are the most important organs of the body. They are the filters of your blood. If the poisons which are swept from the tissues by the blood are not eliminated through the kidneys, disease of one form or another will claim you as a victim.

Kidney disease is usually indicated by weariness, sleeplessness, nervousness, despondency, backache, stomach trouble, pain in loins and lower abdomen, gall stones, gravel, rheumatism, sciatica and lumbago.

All these derangements are nature's signals that the kidneys need help. You should use GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules immediately. ## BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. His efforts to banish it brought out these little olive-colored tablets.

These pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel, but to let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Most headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lousy" and "heavy." Note how they "clear" clouded brain and how they "perk up" the spirits. 10c and 25c a box. All druggists.

The jury reported Wednesday afternoon, Mr. Cobb was working on the line between Springfield Valley and Xenia when the accident occurred. He received a broken shoulder and injuries which he testified incapacitated him from continuing to work as a lineman. The accident occurred five years ago.

Pride and Roses

By JACK LAWTON

(Copyright, 1915, Western Newspaper Union.)

Mary Louise was going to marry the gardener; and being unacquainted with the family of Mary Louise, it would be impossible for you to conceive the consternation this news occasioned. In their eyes the queen had abdicated her throne, the proud old southern name for the first time was being unequally yoked with that of a commoner.

And with all her new and startling views Mary Louise seemed to retain but one characteristic of the old Lindley's—their immovable stubbornness. "I will marry my Harry," she said, "though every one of you turn against me."

Harry has been engaged as gardener by the father of Mary Louise, while that gentleman played golf near the club house. The young man, whistling cheerily, had been busy himself with a trowel among the rare plants bordering the club house veranda when Lindley senior approached.

Being in urgent need of a gardener, he besought the busy one for information and perhaps assistance. "Did he know where a capable and experienced man could be found?"

The club house gardener, after a few abrupt questions, most surprisingly offered his own services.

Mr. Lindley, realizing the ravage neglect was making among his costly, unearned for plants, was only too glad to agree, "but," he added uneasily, "what will they say to me here for taking away their help?"

Henry had laughed away his compunction. "I was going to leave in a few days anyway," he said, "more work here than I bargained for."

The garden had been a fancied fairy land to Mary Louise, and in later years she found many of her dreams still lingering there.

Very unprincipally he had looked when Mary Louise, pausing before a wonderful folded rose, noticed him for the first time kneeling in the dirt almost at her feet.

"You are a new gardener, are you not?" asked Mary Louise. "What is your name?"

He had glanced up at the sound of her voice, as though realizing for the first time her presence, then the gardener smiled.

"Henry," he answered her, and rising with a bow, presented the wonderful rose.

So that was the coming of the prince! Mary Louise did not know at the time, she only knew that the gaze of his dark eyes, had a strangely sweet power to stir her heart. But later, Mary Louise learned the truth, as she came again and again to the garden, lingering unnecessarily, while Henry talked in his musical voice.

At first, the blood of the Lindleys within her rebelled at the interest her father's servant had awakened. Then love's magic joyfully brushed aside the barrier.

It was a soft scented moonlit night when Henry confessed his love for Mary Louise. She stood by the white sun dial, and the old light of dreams shone in her eyes.

"You will marry me, sweet?" asked the voice of her prince, and unhesitatingly she had given her promise.

In the impressive old library, with these frowning faces about her, that promise seemed to be a more serious thing; but firmly Mary Louise repeated:

"I will marry Harry, though you all turn against me."

Then all at once her father buried his old face in his arms.

"Oh, Mary Louise," he moaned, "is it not enough that I must lose this beloved old place of our family, without also losing you? Long have I endeavored to keep up family customs. That is now no longer possible. Our money is gone—poor speculation or unwise expenditure—how, I do not know—but our money is gone."

"If you would but follow the women of your kind in suitable marriage, and surely you have about you eager cavaliers—the pride of the old name might still be saved, if not the financial standing."

"The pride of the name!" cried Mary Louise, "why! father among all the new you know there is not one as clever—or noble or fine, as my Harry."

Her lover, appearing just then in the doorway, gazed back adoringly over the heads of the family council.

"It will make no difference with Mary Louise," said Harry proudly, "but it may alter conditions with yourself, Mr. Lindley, to learn that I have been employing your fertile garden as a means of furthering certain floral experiments which I have for some time been carrying toward successful completion."

"It was a club house friend who first suggested my trial there. New discoveries in growth and color is my hobby; more than that, my life purpose. Tomorrow, with your permission, I will show to you the Mary-Louise rose, for which I have an offer of—"

Harry paused, "well—a great deal of money; and it is a satisfaction to know that all my study and research have not been wasted."

With a little laugh Mary Louise ran into her lover's arms.

"You never told me," she triumphed, "You just kept plodding along out there with your funny trowels. But, oh! I knew all the time that you were clever as well as I knew—that you were you."

TWO CHANCES

He—Do you think those who marry young are as happy as those who marry later in life?

She—Well, if one marries young there is always a chance to marry later.

Like as Not; Like as Not.

As children we used to think that the sardines came from Sardinia. Now Maine cans and sends out $10,000,000 worth a year, and claims there are no better ones on the market. We suppose the olive oil the fish are packed in comes from Mississippi or South Carolina—Providence, Rhode Island.

The Hornpipe. The "hornpipe" is an old English dance peculiar to England. In fact, one might almost say it was the chief dance of the British sailor, and is still. Modern "hornpipes" are in common time and of a more lively character than the ancient form. It is supposed to have received its name from the instrument which was played during its performance.

Cataract of the Eye

In cataract of the eye, the lens becomes opaque or dark, and therefore no longer capable of transmitting the light. Causes of cataract are numerous. Inflammation or injury to the lens may produce it, and may be the result of various diseases, such as gout, rheumatism, diabetes or scrofula, and often accompanies old age. Correction requires a surgical operation to remove the diseased lens.

HOUSTONIA JONES' LINIMENT

An Old Friend in a "New Dress"

Dr. W. G. Jones

The success of one man stimulates others. It also tempts imitators. Thus, the growing popularity due to the proven merit of Jones' Liniment—first compounded by Dr. W. G. Jones of Chillicothe, Ohio, in 1870—has inspired imitation of the name, by a so-called "liniment" which possesses none of the antiseptic, healing, soothing properties of the original Jones' Liniment.

Therefore, to protect the public, it has been deemed advisable to change the name of that famous old liniment. The new name, "Houstonia," under which the original Jones' Liniment will be known in future, has been copyrighted, so that the unscrupulous can no more imitate the name than they can the product.

The portrait of Dr. W. G. Jones, originator of Jones' Liniment, for Man or Beast, has been retained on the new and attractive label of "Houstonia Liniment," thereby inseparably linking the old, original Jones' Liniment with its new name.

Houstonia (The Original Jones') Liniment is sold by all druggists at the original uniform price of 25 cents for 4 oz., and 50 cents for 8-oz. bottles. The original yellow label has also been retained.

The Dr. J. C. Jones Company of South Charleston, Ohio, guarantees that "Houstonia" Liniment is unchanged in formula from the original Jones' Liniment.

Houstonia Liniment possesses the same antiseptic, soothing, healing properties for pain, soreness, sprains, rheumatism, strained muscles, bruises, cuts, burns, sores, stiffness, bites, stings, swollen glands, ralls, etc. In man or beast, that have made Jones' Liniment the standard household and stable remedy for nearly half a century.

It goes in without rubbing, penetrates quickly to the deeper tissues, yet does not burn, smart nor blister the most sensitive skin.

Be sure you get "Houstonia" (The Original Jones') Liniment, "the same your daddy used, with my dad's picture on the yellow label."

Pile Sufferers! Clever Ohio Chemist Says This Great Prescription Taken Internally Has Never Failed

Even chronic cases of 20 to 30 years standing, with profuse bleeding, have been completely cured in from three to ten days.

No discovery of recent years in the field of medicine has caused such a stir amongst the medical profession as the recent discovery that piles can be successfully treated and cured at home by a wonderful prescription known to druggists as Miro Pile Remedy. It has been proved that so called external remedies applied or inserted into the rectum cannot cure piles and at the best only give temporary relief. This is also true of surgical operations which simply remove them after formation, but in no wise acts on the source of the trouble.

This prescription, although taken internally, is not digested in the stomach, but is rapidly passed on unchanged to the intestines, in a short time reaching the exact place, where, by its soothing, healing action, it first allays all inflammation and then by direct contact with all ulcers and piles, causes them to heal and disappear forever.

It is positively marvelous how speedily it acts. Blessed relief often comes in two or three days at most, even in cases with profuse bleeding that have resisted all known treatments, and operation really wonderful results have been accomplished.

The author of this amazing discovery, Charles St. John Neeld, who he desires all sufferers to know, that he does not want a cent of anyone's money unless Miro Pile Remedy decisively conquers even in the worst cases, and he has instructed druggists all over the country to guarantee it in every case of blind, bleeding or protruding piles.

IMPORTANT: What is known as itching piles are not piles in the true sense of the word, although this condition may accompany a true case of piles. For this condition Miro Pile Remedy has been prepared as in such cases it is not necessary to take the internal prescription.

ELMER DIXON FOUND IN NERV-WORTH WONDERFUL RELIEF FROM THE PAINS OF SCIATICA.

Charles St. John Neeld, born September 24, 1889, was called from this life on January 27, being at that time 29 years and four months old.

In play as a child, in study and in sports at school and in business Charles was enthusiastic and fair in whatever he set himself to do. Leadership was one of his predominant qualities, this being recognized by men all through his short life. In school athletics he displayed alertness of mind and body. In Y. M. C. A. physical and educational activities he held a very special interest. In business his associates attest his ability, faithfulness and loyalty. In his country's service merit marks of good conduct and advancement were his reward. For several years he was a secretary of the Sunday School of the First M. E. Church, which church he joined as a Sunday School boy of 15.

At home he was an affectionate son and amongst business and personal friends he was a sincere and loyal associate.

It was a source of grief to his many friends to have Charles return from the marine service in broken health some five years ago. Through these trying years he was always patient, kind and thoughtful—beloved of all who attended him.

Charles has passed on to the peaceful life at the call of his Savior, our Lord Jesus Christ, and those who knew him best and loved him most feel comforted that he could peacefully pass on to the better life.

The first horse became ill Saturday night. Sunday night it was dead. The others died after not more than 24 hours illness. Among the dead animals was a draft team for which the owner had refused $500. The animals were not insured against disease.

THE HOME LETTER.

The boys in the American army of occupation are already tired of their job. The defeated Germans are not interesting—no defeated German ever is—and there is none of the stimulus of excitement or of victory unwon to make army life tolerable.

There is no way in which such a condition can be avoided. Of course, every effort will be made by officers and relief organizations to keep the men interested and happy, but the home-folks are already receiving letters full of the soldier's weariness at inactivity, his longing to be at home.

However much sympathy may be felt for the boy who must stay, it must not go into the answering letters from home in any weakening terms. At no time since our boys entered the service has the content of the home letter been so vital.

There is a fine line between discontent and dishonor. In order that the boy may stay on the safe side of the line and perform his duty well, the home letter must be interesting, must be cheerful, free from either mawkish sympathy which shall make him sorry for himself and from detailed accounts of family distresses which may tempt him to desert.

Parting with sons and husbands was agony when they went away to the danger of active service; but to every one of them the going was made easier by the tang of adventure. Now, to the boy bored with static duty, home is a place of infinite variety, of freedom and opportunity. Just a word might tempt him to come back to it before his time. It will take a finer courage to withhold that word perhaps than it took to speak the one which sent the soldier on his way, but it must be withheld. Better death than life without honor. Better the almost intolerable boredom of barrack life than the truly intolerable stigma of desertion or insubordination.

Such letters only should be written as will help a boy to hold on, and then the public should insist that these letters have safe passage and prompt delivery. Good faith demands it.

CHANGE OF NAMES.

Many persons of German extraction, with family names of pronounced German origin, are going to the courts to have their names changed, and are often taking the distinctive names of Americans. Thus Blagenheit has been changed to Blake, Gerdingerheimer to Gordon and Strotzen to Stuart. They say that the old names are hard to spell and to pronounce, and that they are caused intense mortification by bearing names that identify them with the nation which has set itself against our true civilization and has been engaged in war with us and our allies.

PADEREWSKI.

From the Cleveland Plain Dealer. Ignace Paderewski is one of the notable phenomena of the day. The great musician has become head of the Polish nation. The artist has developed high qualities of statesmanship and has proved his right to lead.

For more than a score of years the world has known Paderewski as a music master. Not only as a virtuoso but also as a composer and master of musical science the distinguished Pole has earned a place among the immortals. During these years the world never suspected that Paderewski was different from other artists. It was assumed that his life was devoted to his art and that he had no interests and few recreations outside the realm of music.

During the war Paderewski was active in the work of raising funds for the relief of the Polish victims of war's barbarity. He was commended for his unselfishness and humanitarianism, but even then it was not disclosed that he was more than a patriot and humanitarian. Only since the cessation of hostilities has Ignace Paderewski appeared as an able statesman and skillful organizer.

Paderewski has already won a place in history. He has already proved himself unique among great artists. All Poles and all friends of Poland will now hope that the genius he has displayed is no more than an earnest of still greater skill in leadership that will bring Poland to the goal of self-reliant independence.

"THE WIFE"

BY JANE PHELPS

BRIAN REALIZES THE JOY OF HELPING OTHERS.

CHAPTER CLIV.

Ruth had not neglected her "war babies," nor their mothers, since Brian's return. Now that he was nearly recovered from his wounds, he visited some of them with her. He told of the bravery of the boys "over there" and gave them all the comfort he could if their soldier husbands were among those who never would return. He became as interested as was Ruth in trying to do all he could for the wives and babies of the men who were lying in Flanders' Field. And in ministering to them his own heart was softened, his life made more unselfish.

Mrs. Clayborne still remained in the south, but she sent Ruth all the money she needed for her pet charity. One little woman whose baby was delicate, and the mother-heart almost broken because of the loss of her husband added to the fear she would not keep her child, she told Ruth to send south, and on the old plantation, where Ruth had spent her own childhood days, the baby grew stronger and the young mother more resigned.

"Isn't it wonderful what a help it is to oneself to try to make others happy?" questioned Ruth one night as she and Brian sat planning what they could do for one of her war babies' father who had come home terribly maimed.

"Yes, and Ruth had it not been for you I never should have known much about that kind of helpfulness. I have been very self-centered all my life, I am afraid. I have looked at things only in the light of affecting Brian Hackett. But between the war and my brave little wife I have learned many things."

"We all have learned to feel differently this last year or two, Brian. Things that loomed so large before seem scarcely worth thinking of now. And things which passed by us because we were engrossed by self, are taking their place. But we'll all get adjusted after a bit."

Ruth was so happy in her home life that she had not one single regret in her heart. She worked faithfully during the morning upon plans from the shop sent her. Mandel paid her generously, and she insisted upon paying Rachel's wages as, without her, she would have been unable to apply herself to her tasks. Finally she and Brian came to the point where there was no more talk, no more feeling, even, about WHO earned the money. It was a common purse, and spent for common needs.

Brian's business did not materialize to any great extent all at once. But gradually clients came to him, some of them rich men whom he charged fair prices. Other soldiers who wanted advice and whom he charged nothing, or just enough so they would not feel objects of charity.

"The rich must pay enough so those who cannot afford to pay can be cared for in every way," he remarked to Ruth one night in discussing the happenings of the day.

"That's just what Doctor Moore said this morning. Baby has been a bit fretful with his teeth, and I dropped in to see him. A poor woman was there with a sick baby, her husband still overseas. The doctor wouldn't take a penny for what he did for her; and made the same remark you just made; that those who could afford it, must pay for these others as well as for themselves."

Kenyon Roberts was much interested in Brian's change of location. They had grown very intimate since Brian's return. Kenyon never tired of listening to Brian's talks of what had been done, of how the boys had been liked, and of the part the splendid Americans, Canadians and the others had played in the result. His inability to go himself because of his lameness, had been a very real and bitter trial. And he often told Brian that it was like being in the fight himself to listen to his, Brian's graphic descriptions.

In all his talk Brian eliminated himself, his own part in the struggle. He was not alone in this; it was a trait common to the men who had returned. Privates as well as officers belittled their own part in the great drama, while they gave all praise to their "buddies"—to the other fellow—no matter what his nationality, so long as he was one of the Allies, and fighting for the same cause.

Finally Kenyon yielded to Brian's urging and took two rooms adjoining those Ruth had fitted up for Brian. While not exactly a partnership, they would be able to work together, in a measure, to the advantage of both.

Kenyon's office was very simply

"THOUGH THE MILLS OF GOD GRIND SLOWLY, YET THEY GRIND EXCEEDING SMALL"

furnished, but he had asked Ruth's advice in selecting his rugs and chairs, so that they would in a way, not be too different from Brian's when the doors were opened between. She gladly assisted him, and the result fully proved her taste, even when she was very limited as to money.

"A law firm with an interior decorator as a side partner," Brian said laughingly as he kissed her.

Tomorrow—Mrs. Clayborne. Plans to Help Ruth's "War Babies."

MOTORAIDS

The funnel used in filling the gas tank should have a strainer of very fine wire. It will keep out any dirt, lint, etc., which might get into the oiling system and clog some small opening. One such piece of dirt or lint might do no harm, but others are apt to accumulate there and finally cause a serious clogging. This matter of straining the oil is especially necessary with the type of lubricator using several small pumps, as a small piece of dirt getting into any one of these valves, would put that particular pump out of commission immediately.

Everyday Etiquette

"Is it proper to thank a gentleman who takes me to a party?" asked Gladys.

"Yes indeed, you should thank him simply for a very pleasant evening," replied her mother.

Mercuric Intensification.

A stock solution of mercuric chloride is a convenient material for mercuric intensification; the negative being immersed in this until bleached right through, then well washed and darkened with dilute ammonia. Instead of the stock solution consisting of the chloride by itself, it has been pointed out by Vogel and others that it is an advantage to dissolve the mercuric chloride in a five per cent solution of common salt, to each ounce of which ten drops of strong hydrochloric acid have been added. A convenient strength for the chloride is one of ten grains to the ounce of liquid. If the solution is too strong, it will cause reticulation of the negative.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Spahr, who gave a charming dinner last evening, sixteen guests being present, will also entertain quite a number of friends at dinner Monday evening.

Bellbrook Moon—The sugar camp on the Matthew Berryhill farm, was opened up last week by Elwood Edwards, who began boiling on Monday of this week. This was the first camp tapped that we have heard of, and is a sign that spring is not so far away.

Mr. O. S. Boyer, former secretary of the Y. M. C. A. here, stopped off in this city last night and was meeting friends here today. He is now located at Salem.

Mr. John T. Barnett, proprietor of the Barnett saw mill is improving it with the addition of a new boiler. Judge H. L. Smith, of the court of common pleas, and Judge C. C. Shearer, of the circuit court, will retire from office on February 9th, and the members of the Greene County bar are arranging to give a banquet in their honor. It will take place at the Florence Hotel on February 6th.

Wasted Patience.

He was a green Scottish lad, and one of his duties was to answer the telephone. When first called on to do so, in reply to the usual query: "Are you there?" he nodded assent. Again the question came and again and yet again, and each time the boy gave the answering nod. When the question came for the fifth time, however, the boy, losing his temper, roared through the transmitter: "Man, are ye blin'! I've been noddin' ma head off for the last half oor!"—Boston Transcript.

A VERIFICATION

Editor Gazette-Republican—

Here is an interesting sidelight on your editorial "The Glorious Work of the Orphans' Home." Fred P. Lucas states that his wife was well acquainted with the Hon. John G. Brady mentioned in the article. He was reared by a Judge Green of Tipton, Ind., an uncle of Mrs. Lucas. Brady was a waif and did live in an institution until he was eleven years old, when, with a lot of other children, he was taken in a car from town to town and people were given an opportunity to select a child for adoption. Judge Green went through the car and said to the person in charge that he wanted the homeliest boy in the bunch. After looking them over he picked out Brady who was reared and educated by the Green family. After he grew to manhood he went to New York and made an unsuccessful effort to find his relatives. Later he went to Alaska, of which territory he became Governor.

OHIO WILL GO

OVER THE TOP

Cincinnati, O.—(Special.)—The biggest humanitarian campaign ever staged in Ohio—the campaign of the Armenian and Syrian Relief Committee for $1,640,000—will come to a close Saturday night of this week, and indications today are that when the last subscription is counted it will be found that Ohio has again "gone over the top."

Before the campaign proper opened last Monday morning, approximately $1,000,000 of the full quota had been subscribed, mostly by war chests. The remaining $640,000 and more is expected to come directly from individual subscribers in non-war chest communities. The national quota is $30,000,000.

Because of its many war chests, Ohio is expected to be one of the first states in the Union to reach its quota. D. A. Custer of this city is director general of the Ohio campaign. Some of the most prominent college presidents, business men and professional men in the state, including Governor Cox, are members of the Ohio committee in charge of the campaign, which also had the strong endorsement of President Wilson and the national administration.

Money derived from the big campaign will be used in extending immediate and much-needed relief to the millions of starving and persecuted Armenians and Syrians in the Near East.

Other people in the world have suffered such hardships as have these peoples. Driven from their homes by the Turks and Bulgarians, they were forced to wander the plains and deserts. Thousands were killed in cold blood. Thousands of others perished from hunger, unable to stand the rigors of the climate and the forced diet of herbs and garbage.

These persecuted peoples have been receiving assistance from Americans for some time, but the assistance has been meager. In many cases fathers and mothers with large families were forced to let their children die before their very eyes. They could receive only enough assistance to provide for one child. As a result, in many families all but one child have died.

In some sections of Persia the conditions became so terrible that the natives, far from home and unable to obtain food, resorted to the eating of raw flesh from dead horses found in the streets and on the plains. Such conditions led to great disease and pitiable sights.

Within the last week two American steamers have sailed for the Near East with clothing and food for the refugees. Additional help will be extended as money is received by the American committee in charge. Arrangements have been made for the co-operation in the food relief with Herbert Hoover, American food administrator.

The Quick Way to Stop a Cough

This home-made syrup does the work in a hurry. Easily prepared, and saves about $2.

You might be surprised to know that the best thing you can use for a severe cough, is a remedy which is easily prepared at home in just a few moments. It's cheap, but for prompt results it beats anything else you ever tried. Usually stops the ordinary cough or chest cold in 24 hours. Tastes pleasant, too—children like it—and it is pure and good. Four 2½ ounces of boxes in a pint bottle; then fill up with plain granulated sugar syrup. Or use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup, if desired. Thus you make a full pint—a family supply—but costing no more than a small bottle of ready-made cough syrup. And as a cough medicine, there is really nothing better to be had at any price. It goes right to the root and gives quick, lasting relief. It promptly stops the inflamed membranes that line the throat and air passages, stops the annoying throat tickle, loosens the phlegm, and soon your cough stops entirely. Splendid for bronchitis, croup, whooping cough and bronchial asthma. Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway pine extract, famous for its healing effect on the membranes. To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

RETURNED SOLDIERS OFFERED JOBS BY CANADA'S NEW NICKEL PLAN

"Why not refine our own nickel?" asked Canadians. The International Nickel Company of Canada answered the challenge by erecting a $5,000,000 refinery at Port Colborne, Ontario, at the head of the Welland Canal. This is a strategic location—a short, straight-away haul from the famous Cobalt mining district; allows a water haul for the fuel and fluxes that must be imported from the states, and for the export of finished metals. Twenty thousand pounds of nickel and 8,000,000 pounds of copper is estimated as the annual capacity of the new plant which has been constructed with a view to enlargement as the promoters plan to have the entire output of the Sudbury mines handled at Port Colborne eventually. These mines furnish 70% of the world's output of iron ore, this when smelted results in matte of nickel and copper.

This refinery represents the last word in refining efficiency. Wherever possible, mechanical devices have been installed to economize on labor which has been scarce during war days. Traveling cranes handle cars of ore far more easily than a man can handle a wheelbarrow, which old-fashioned system still prevails at the company's main plant at

Bayonne, New Jersey. Refining operations were begun on July 1st on nickel-matte from the company's mines at Sudbury which is situated at the junction of Toronto line of the Canadian Pacific Railway with its main transcontinental line. The most pressing problem faced in establishing the new industry was that of labor. The International's policy is to give employment to every returned soldier who seeks work. Its general manager sums up their experience with this class of labor, thus: "While the work of some of the veterans has been very satisfactory, and while they have been given light work so as not to overtax them, a curious degree of restlessness has been encountered. Men who were eager to commence work, disappeared overnight, never to return. The psychology of the returned soldier furnishes a problem that demands much study. Time and patience must be exercised with the whole class, and tact and consideration in individual cases during the trying period of re-adjustment to put the men on their feet again in an industrial way."

RED CROSS CLASSES IN HOME HYGIENE

To give final opportunity for enrollment Miss Johnson will meet those interested in Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick at the class room in the basement of the court house, Friday afternoon at 2:30 sharp, when classes may be paid and time for classes arranged. Business women or others who for any reason can not meet in the afternoon will find Miss Johnson at the class room promptly at 7 p. m. Friday to arrange for a class period for them, providing there is a sufficient number desiring an evening class. This will probably be the last opportunity the women of Xenia will have to join a class for some time. The services of our instructors are being demanded for work in other places. W. A. Galloway, Chm.

Elvis Glenn Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Johnson of Trumbull street, is at Camp Sherman, having arrived from overseas with the first increment of the Eighty-Third Division, and he expects to be discharged from the service and to reach home by Sunday. The young man was at the front until he was gassed in August. In talking to a member of his family over the telephone from Camp Sherman, Tuesday night, he said that he had recovered from the effects of the gassing. A brother of the young man, Russell Johnson, is with the army of occupation.

YOUNG MEN PLEAD GUILTY TO BURGLARY

A plea of guilty to the charge of burglary and larceny, was made before Magistrate J. E. Jones Thursday morning by Joseph Hicks, Thomas Jones, John Kizzie and James Frazer, who burglarized and robbed the home of Orange Ellison on the Jamestown pike late Monday afternoon.

The boys, who are about 18 years old, were bound over to the grand jury, and placed under $500 bond each by the justice. They were remanded to the custody of Sheriff Funderburg.

Hicks is the only white boy in the bunch. The four lads robbed the Ellison home during the temporary absence of Mrs. Ellison, who had driven to this city to meet her husband after he left his place of employment, and take him home.

They sat down and ate the supper which Mrs. Ellison had prepared, drank cream, upset the milk, and ransacked the house. They carried away goods valued at $57.30 and were wearing clothing and had in their possession other articles taken from the Ellison house when they were arrested at London. In their pockets were also found glasses of jelly which they had carried away from the Ellison home.

RELIEF WORKERS SAIL FOR TURKEY

New York. — (Special.)— Benjamin F. Stoltzfus and his brother William, both of No. 825 North Jefferson street, Lima, O., sailed from New York on the steamer Pensacola for Constantinople with a large party of relief workers under the direction of the American Committee for Relief in the Near East.

Accompanying the Stoltzfus brothers on the Pensacola were a number of former army officers and enlisted men who have seen service with the colors and desire to take part in the great reconstruction program which the committee is carrying out in Asia Minor. The committee is sending over vast stores of foodstuffs, clothing and medical supplies for the use of the Armenians, Syrians, Persians and Jews who, ever since the outbreak of the war in 1914, have been in want. The committee also has dispatched scores of motor trucks which will be used in transporting these supplies throughout Asia Minor.

Like other members of the party that sailed on the Pensacola, the Stoltzfus brothers have volunteered their services, so anxious are they to have a hand in the relief work which the committee is carrying on. They will remain abroad at least a year. Their experience in agriculture, mechanics and social work will be of service to the committee. Both were associated with the Friends Reconstruction Unit.

Choosing the Flower Vase.

Highly ornamental vases are attractive in themselves but, as flower holders, they may be said to be partial failures, as they do not serve their purpose to the fullest extent. They rather attract attention to themselves than set off the blooms for which they are designed. A vase of plain material or color, or one on which the design is obscure, is more to be desired, as it presents the flowers in their full beauty, and does not distract one's attention. In the same way, a vase of lusterware, of a shade that blends with the flowers it holds, is far more attractive than one of contrasting color. Vases that are to be used for all kinds of flowers, might better be green, of a dull shade, as this resembles the plant coloring and is not noticeable.—Christian Science Monitor.

Separating Photograph From Mount. When a photograph is pulled away from its mount, after being sufficiently soaked in water, the surface of the print may be injured by the bending. This can be avoided by laying the print flat on its face and pulling away the mount, stripping it away in several layers if necessary.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

TO WARD OFF ILLNESS.

If you are bloated, languid or lazy, have "the blues," headaches, palpitation, biliousness, bad breath, gas, constipation or indigestion, you will feel better in the morning if you take a Foley Cathartic Tablet tonight. This is a wholesome laxative and cleansing physic that acts without inconvenience, griping or nausea, Sayre & Hemphill. adv

Historic Versailles. The great attraction of Versailles is its palace, and the history of this structure may be said to be the history of the town. Louis XIII built a hunting lodge here, afterwards extended it into a chateau. Louis XIV devoted enormous sums to its embellishment, or rather reconstruction, and Louis XV altered the arrangement of the interior. It was one of the usual residences of the court down to the revolution, which had its beginning here in the meeting of the states general in May, 1789. King Louis Philippe transformed the palace of Louis XIV into a museum to contain trophies of the victories of France. From the middle of September, 1870, till the conclusion of peace ending the Franco-Prussian war in 1871, Versailles was the center of the operations of the Germans. It was there on January 18, 1871, that King William of Prussia was proclaimed German emperor.

Work While at Work.

It's a good thing not to take your hobbies to the office. It's also a good thing to dispense with easy chairs and other luxuries in your place of business. Take the rest cure at home. The office is a place of toil. It should be comfortable, but its appointments should be suggestive of work and efficiency rather than leisure. Instead of making a man feel like taking a nap the office environment should be an urge to his best efforts.

PASSES AWAY AFTER ILLNESS OF A YEAR

After almost a year's illness, death finally relieved the sufferings of Miss Margaret Elizabeth Corrigan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Corrigan of near Jamestown, Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

The funeral services were held at St. Augustine's Catholic Church in Jamestown and burial was made in St. Brigid's Cemetery in this city, Tuesday morning.

Venetian Gondolas.

It was not until the end of the seventeenth century that the Venetian gondola assumed its present simplicity and somberness of color. A vain attempt has been made to introduce it in other countries, but it has apparently resisted all efforts at acclimatization.

Persia's Favorite Beverage.

The great beverage in Persia is sherbet, which is plentifully supplied and of which there are many varieties—from the bowl of water with a squeeze of lemon to the clear concentrated juice of any sort of fruit to which water is added to dilute it. Only among the rich and fashionable are glasses used; in all other cases sherbet is served in china bowls and drunk from deep wooden spoons carved in pearwood.

Where Methodist Eyes of the World Will Center Next June and July

Glimpse of Magnificent Exposition Grounds at Columbus, O., being prepared for a display of Methodist activities from all parts of the globe. Inset shows Dr. D. D. Forsyth, Philadelphia, Chairman of the Joint Centenary Committee of the M. E. Church.

COLUMBUS, O.—(Special.)—Methodist ministers and laymen to the number of several thousands are getting their concrete notions of what the Methodist Centenary Celebration, to be held here June 20 to July 7, will be like. Attending a special regional meeting, at which men like Bishop Wilson, R. A. Ward and Fred B. Fisher of New York; Bishop McDowell, Washington; Bishop Warner, India; S. Earl Taylor, director general of the celebration; D. D. Forsyth, Philadelphia; C. F. Reiser, New York; Edgar Blake, Chicago, and R. S. Cushman, New York, are speakers, they have still enjoyed an opportunity to visit the exposition grounds where for weeks past work has been in progress preparing for the tremendous celebration for which it is expected that more than 100,000 Methodists will journey to Columbus from all parts of the United States.

The spacious buildings already provided by the state of Ohio are being modified and extended to meet the peculiar needs of the Methodist celebration. This will visualize to pastor and laymen the work of the church at home and the work of the church abroad. Here will be seen, with all the splendor and detail of a world exposition, the natives of all the countries in which the Methodist church operates as a missionary force. Here, too, will be set forth all the work in this country. Essentially the entire work of Methodism will be brought to Columbus and displayed in its original colors and with all the circumstance and surrounding of its various habitations on the globe.

Two special pageants are being planned and many lesser ones. A climax of the celebration will be a symbolic representation of the drawing together of all the nations of the earth through the gospel of Christ. In order to care for the throngs that are certain to be in attendance an extensive bureau already has been organized. Registrations and reservations already are being made for interested Methodists throughout the United States.

H. B. Dickson, organizing secretary of the Centenary Celebration, is occupying two entire floors of a large office building, with the incidental corps of assistants to take care of the work.

DADDY'S EVENING FAIRY TALE

BY MARY GRAHAM BONNER

PONY'S ADVENTURES.

"The snow was falling," said Daddy, "and it looked so nice and soft and warm that a little pony named Pet neighed and said to himself, 'Oh, how I wish I could go for a scamper in that snowstorm. It looks so wonderfully soft. It would blow into my face. It would be glorious!'"

"Now Pet belonged to a circus and though he was not doing anything at this time in the way of circus tricks he was exercised each day.

"He had a very nice comfortable stall and plenty of hay. Often he had a lump of sugar or a red apple. There were other ponies belonging to the circus and they had their stalls near his. They would neigh and chat with each other and shake their manes and talk of the circus and the people who had seen them act.

"They would talk of parades and brass bands, of having their manes tied with beautiful, bright ribbons. They would talk of the trips they made to different places and of how much alike each place looked.

"They couldn't imagine how a town would look without people lining the sidewalks, looking at the street. For of course the ponies had always walked through the streets when they were a part of the parade. And who wouldn't look at a circus parade?"

"Oh, Dear," He Neighed.

"I can't imagine any one who wouldn't," said Nancy.

"We certainly always do," said Nick. And Daddy laughed. For Nick was very apt to be almost the first person on the street the morning of a circus parade, and both children were ready several hours before the parade came along.

"Well, Pet had had a fine rest, and he had had enough exercise and he was looking forward to the springtime when the circus would commence to travel again.

"All the animals weren't so anxious to have the rest over as Pet was. They enjoyed the winter time. But exercise and training weren't enough for Pet. He longed for something more exciting. And now that he saw the snow falling he thought how wonderful it would be to take a run in the snow.

"He looked about him and—yes, could it be true? His stall was unlocked. Pet walked out of it, looked about him, and then went along a passage way which led to the big door of the barn. It was dinner time and no one was around, so Pet walked right out of the barn. Even if he had been seen no one would have thought much of it, for Pet was allowed to scamper and play about most of the time. Oh, how wonderful the snow did feel! He took run after run. He thought he would go along with the wind and that it would be fine coming back, for he would have so much exercise, and somehow he felt just like a lot of exercise.

"So he raced on and on, now and then stopping to poke his nose into the snow and sometimes kicking it as he ran along.

"As he ran the snowstorm grew worse. More and more snow came down and the wind grew very, very strong.

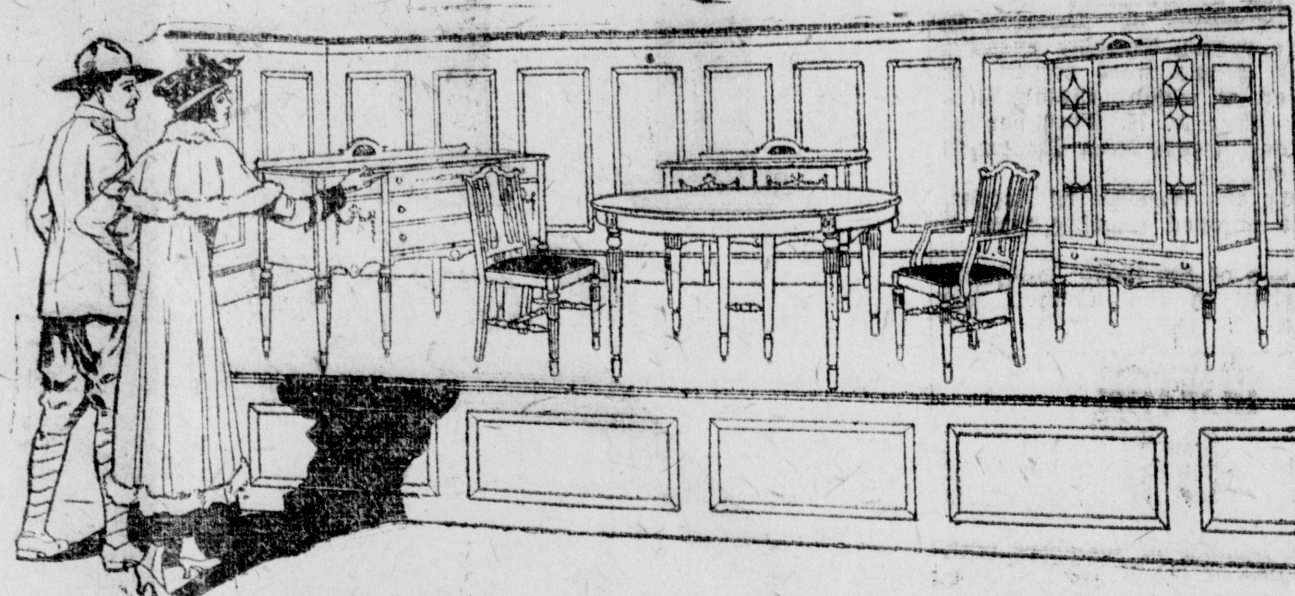

"I think I'll be turning around now," said Pet. And he turned toward home—or he thought he did. Instead he went in another direction and far away from the circus stables. He became very tired after a little while and didn't see why he didn't reach home and his nice, warm stall.

"Oh dear," he neighed sadly to himself, "why did I ever come through the country like this all by myself? I've lost my way."

"And two tears trickled down his face. He tried to be brave but it was very hard. The snow was almost blinding him now. He could scarcely walk through it, it had piled up so fast. He went on, slowly and more slowly, but still he kept up courage. He was just about to give up and lie down in the snowstorm which he thought had gotten the best of him when he saw a light. He went toward the light and found a house.

He neighed with as much strength as he had and the door was opened for him. And what do you suppose happened to Pet? It was Christmas Eve and he was there next morning as a Christmas present for all the children. Their Daddy had been telephoned to by the circus manager who had wondered if the pony could have gone in his direction and after some talk he had agreed to sell the pony! And Pet began a life of new adventures, surrounded by devoted children's playmates!"

Grow Wheat in Western Canada

One Crop Often Pays for the Land

Western Canada offers the greatest advantages to home seekers. Large profits are assured. You can buy on easy payment terms.

Fertile Land at $15 to $30 per Acre—Land similar to that which through many years has averaged from 20 to 45 bushels of wheat to the acre. Hundreds of cases are on record where in Western Canada a single crop has paid the cost of land and production. The Government of the Dominion and Provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta want the farmer to prosper, and extend every possible encouragement and help to Grain Growing and Stock Raising.

Through Western Canada offers land at such low figures, the high prices of grain, cattle, sheep and hogs will remain.

Loans for the purchase of stock may be had at low interest; there are good shipping facilities; best of markets; free schools; churches; splendid climate; low taxation (none on improvements). For particulars as to location of lands for sale, maps, illustrated literature, reduced railway rates, etc., apply to Dept. of Immigration, Ottawa, Can., or W. S. Nethery, Interurban Bldg., Columbus, Ohio.

WANT THE STATE TO ACCEPT BRYAN FARM

The large John Bryan farm at Yellow Springs offered to the state in the will of its late eccentric owner may be used as a state agricultural experiment station if plans of Dr. Charles Thorne, head of the Experimental Station at Wooster, go through with.

Dr. Thorne has been in Columbus conferring with Representative W. B. Bryson, of this county, in regard to appealing to the state to accept the tract of land with such a purpose in view. It is Dr. Thorne's idea for the state to accept the farm, and turn it into an experimental station for the advantage of Greene county agricultural students in the three colleges in the county, Antioch, Cedarville and Wilberforce University. Representative Bryson has entered a bill in the State Legislature to have the Attorney General investigate and make a report on whether the state can accept the land for this purpose.

The possibility of a game preserve on the territory has also been widely discussed, and action in the matter was taken at the meeting of the State Fish and Game Protective Association in Columbus last week, when a committee was appointed to appeal to the State for possession of the tract with the agreement to convert it into a preserve and stock it with game.

Low World Is Colored.

After all, the kind of world one carries about in oneself is the important thing, and the world outside takes all its grace, color and value from that.

KEMP'S BALSAM

GUARANTEED

BAD BRONCHIAL COUGH FOR 36 YEARS

Mrs. Bice finally found how to stop it, without changing climate.

"I had suffered with bronchitis for 36 years. When I was two years old, I had the whooping cough and it left me in an awful state ever since. I have taken hundreds of dollars worth of medicine, with but little relief. I had to sit up in bed all night and cough, getting up strings of phlegm, and choking until my eyes nearly burst out of their sockets. I am poor and could not afford to change climate.

"Finally my husband urged me to try Milks Emulsion, saying if it didn't help me, I could get my money back. I tried it and have continued its use until now my bronchial tubes are free and clear and I can breathe with ease. When you think that I had this dreaded disease all my life, you can see why I want everybody to try Milks Emulsion."

Mrs. Anna Bice, 1451 Wendall St., Columbus, Ohio.

Sprays and gargles and local remedies do not touch a cough of this kind. The trouble is deep-seated. The whole system must be strengthened and built up to throw it off. The same thing is true of a hard cold.

Milks Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritive food and a corrective medicine. It restores healthy, natural bowel action, doing away with all need of pills and physics. It promotes appetite and quickly puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food. As a builder of flesh and strength, Milks Emulsion is strongly recommended to run-down nervous people, and it has produced amazing results in many cases of asthma, chronic bronchitis, and tuberculosis of the lungs. Chronic stomach trouble and constipation are promptly relieved—usually in one day.

This is the only solid emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream. A truly wonderful medicine for weak, sickly children.

No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try Milks Emulsion under this guarantee—Take six bottles home with you, use it according to directions and if not satisfied with the results, your money will be promptly refunded. Price 60c and $1.20 per bottle. The Milks Emulsion Co., Terre Haute, Ind. Sold and guaranteed by Sayre & Hemphill.

MEN OF THE 83RD ARRIVE AT SHERMAN

That a number of Greene county men from overseas have already arrived at Camp Sherman, with 140 men from the 83rd division, is thought possible following a dispatch that announces that part of that famous unit which trained at the Ohio cantonment, has arrived in Sherman for discharge.

The possibility that the majority of the Greene county men who were with the 330th Infantry, a part of the 83rd Division, are not yet in this county is also being entertained, since advises state that only about 75 of the original 250 men in the companies of the 330th are still connected with that organization. This is due to the fact that the 83rd went across as a replacement unit and great numbers of the men have been transferred to other units overseas.

The 140 men who have arrived at Camp Sherman comprise the headquarters detachment of the 83rd division, the 166th Brigade headquarters troop, 608th Supply train and casual company, No. 18. Other units of the 83rd are expected to arrive at the camp this week and local people are hoping that Company F of the 330th Infantry, the 322nd Field Artillery and other units of the 83rd Division that have many Xenia and Greene county boys in their personnel will arrive there soon for discharge.

BRYAN'S WIDOW SAYS SHE IS SATISFIED WITH THE EXECUTOR

When the motion filed by Eli G. Frankenstein, as attorney for Mrs. Fredrika Bryan, widow of John Bryan, for removal of Edgar Stark as executor and trustee of the estate, came up for hearing in Hamilton County Probate Court, Mrs. Bryan said she was not consulted in regard to the motion and said she is satisfied with Mr. Stark as executor.

Judge Landers dismissed the motion and took under advisement Mr. Frankenstein's request that the Court fix his fee for services, as adviser of Mr. Bryan, at $5,000.

Frankenstein claims that he was acting merely to protect his client's interest, and filed the motion following the failure of Executor Stark to file an inventory within the statutory time.

Acting for Mrs. Bryan, Executor Stark is suing the Western Bank and Trust company of Cincinnati, to obtain a court order holding that a safety deposit box there containing $170,000, in the name of J. N. Harper was carried under a fictitious name by Bryan. It is claimed that Bryan obtained the name "J. N. Harper" from a tombstone in a graveyard in northern Ohio and decided to use it in making the deposit for the purpose of keeping the contents of the box secret.

Famous Serbian City.

The Serbian city of Nish has always possessed strategic significance. It is the ancient Naissus, the birthplace of Constantine, which commanded an important Roman military road and where Claudius II won his great victory over the Ostro-Goths. Oddly enough, the ancient city was destroyed by Attila's Huns, from whom, according to one of the best authorities on the ethnology of the Balkan races, the modern Bulgarians are descended. In recent times Nish has become the Polis of Serbia, and before the Bulgarian occupation was infested with pigs, the ubiquitous national animals cherished by all Serbian peasants. The Serbian pig is a lean, bristly, semimild ruffian, who urgently needs "reconstruction" by the introduction of Berkshire and Yorkshire breeds.
